Reader's Guide - offers current events coverage, curriculum support, and quality periodicals research for students and educators.

Play Index - Find citations to some 31,000 plays published individually or in collections from 1949 to present. Limit your results to plays with a specific number of male and/or female roles, or size of total cast. Search for plays appropriate for preK-6, grades 7-12, and adult. A descriptive annotation summarizes the plot and indicates any musical requirements: chorus, singing, dancing etc., and indicates number of sets, noting whether scenery requirements are interior or exterior. Covers a wide range of plays written in or translated into English, including one-act plays, pageants, plays in verse, radio and television plays, and classic drama. Search for plays by title; author; subject (culture conflict, marriage); style (symbolism, experimental theater); genre (comedy, melodrama, musical); cast type; and more. Updated continuously, with new material added to the database at least weekly. Since important classic and historical plays (e.g. the plays of Aeschylus and Euripides, Moliere's works, Shakespeare's dramas, works of George Bernard Shaw or Ibsen), are reprinted in collections and anthologies, you will find virtually any play being studied or performed in Play Index. This unique resource also covers the works of contemporary playwrights, including new editions or translations.
